Ans. The conductor called Valli ‘Madam’ as she behaved like a grown up and did not think that she was a child. She also refused his help and told him that she can manage on her own.

Q.5 Find the lines in the text which tell you that Valli was enjoying her ride in the bus.

Ans. Valli thoroughly enjoyed her ride in the bus. The following lines from the text tell us about it. She saw so many things on her way—a canal, palm trees, grasslands, distant mountains. “Oh, it was all so wonderful”, that’s what she felt. “Sometimes the bus seemed in the point of gobbling up another vehicle that was coming towards them or a pedestrian crossing the road. Somehow it passed smoothly, leaving all obstacles behind and then she saw a cow running very fast, in front of the bus. This all seemed very funny to Valli and she laughed and laughed till tears flowed from her eyes”.

Q.6 Why does Valli refused to look out of the window in her way back?

Ans. Valli refused to look out of the window on her way back as she saw the dead body of the cow who was running very fast towards the bus when she was going to the town. This made her sad and frightened.

Q.7 What does Valli mean when she says... “I was just agreeing with you what you said about things happening without our knowledge”.

Ans. While making this statement, Valli was trying to hide the fact about her bus ride. She was also feeling elated at making a successful attempt at her plan.

Q.8 The author describes the things that Valli sees from an 8-year old’s point of view. Can you find evidence from the text from his statement?

Ans. Yes, for example when the author says, ‘She was fascinated by the bus’ and ‘watching the bus fill with a new set of people each time was a source of unending joy for her’. When the author describes the bus, he stresses on the color and look of the new bus ‘like silver’ because a child is attracted towards color. ‘the seats were soft and luxurious.’ The description that the author gives when Valli looked outside are also typical of a 8-year old. ‘The blue sky’ and ‘acres and acres of green field’, show the enthusiasm a child. A cow running in front of the bus fascinated the child whereas the sight of dead cow brought tears in her eyes and she refused to look outside the window on her return journey. This also describes the behavior of an 8-year old child aptly.

Q.1 Have you ever planned something entirely on your own, without taking grown-ups into your confidence? What did you plan and how? Did you carry out your plan?

Ans. It was during my summer vacations. I wanted to buy a special birthday for my mother. So, I roped in my younger sister I my plan celebrate her birthday. We saved our pocket money and didn’t go for our weekly outings for some time. I this way, we were able to save five hundred rupees for the birthday party. Now, we had to arrange everything without our mother’s knowledge. On her birthday we pretended as if we didn’t remember her birthday at all. Instead we requested our father to take her to the market. In the meantime, we arranged everything like cake, decoration, flowers and even invited two of her best friends. When she came back she was surprised. It was the best birthday she ever had in her life.

Q.2 Have you made a journey that was unforgettable in some way? What made it memorable?

Ans. I have gone o many trips and excursions, but one journey which I can't forget is my trip to Hemkund and Badrinath. The scenery over there was mesmerising and as you live Delhi, you enjoy cool fresh air and see breath taking lush green fields. The bus ride takes you on winding narrow roads, with river flowing on one side and mountains on the other side. To reach Hemkund Sahib, one has to travel 14 kms by foot. Everywhere there are crowds
