<https://www.high-endrolex.com/33>

After a hearty lunch, my parents and my younger sisters lay down for an afternoon nap and I settled down with a storybook. The quiet afternoon presented the perfect backdrop for reading an adventure story. The silence was occasionally broken by the sound of my family snoring, the intermittent chirping of house sparrows, the harsh cawing of a crow the shrill call of a kite flying high above the ground. Minutes ticked by. I became deeply absorbed in the book.

Suddenly, I heard a group of street dogs barking furiously in the distance. I chose to ignore the commotion thinking that the pack of dogs might have cornered a hapless pig. But soon, the barking became louder and more aggressive and the alarmed cawing of a flock of crows added to the cacophony. I also heard the disturbance approaching closer. Curiosity got the better of me. Leaving the book aside, I rushed to the veranda to see what was going on.

That was Meena. She stayed alone in an apartment as her parents lived in Delhi. She was an only child and had the habit of complaining about anything and everything. Naturally, she wasn't a very pleasant company and nobody wanted to visit her. Then one day, Meena was transferred to Bombay and soon we all forgot about her.

Many years later, I found myself caught in the rain at Bombay's Flora Fountain. It was pouring and I didn't have an umbrella. I was standing near Akbarallys, a popular department store, waiting for the rain to subside. Suddenly, I spotted Meena. My first reaction was to run, even in that pouring rain. I was anxious to avoid being seen by her, having to listen to her never-ending complaints. However, I couldn't escape. She had already seen me and caught hold of my hand warmly, what's more, she was very cheerful.

Read the following poem and write an appreciation of it with the help of the points given below:

The World is Mine

Today on a bus, I saw a lovely girl with silken hair
I envied her, she seemed so gay, and I wished I was so fair
When suddenly she rose to leave, I saw her hobble down the aisle
She had one leg and wore a crutch, but as she passed – a smile
O God, forgive me when I whine
I have two legs, the world is mine.
And then I stopped to buy some sweets, The lad who sold them had such charm
I talked with him, he seemed so calm, and if I were late, it would do no harm,
And as I left he said to me “ I thank you, you have been so kind”
It’s nice to talk with folks like you. You see, I’m blind
O God forgive me when I whine
I have two eyes, the world is mine
Later walking down the street, I saw a child with eyes of blue
He stood and watched the others play, it seemed he knew not what to do
I stopped a moment, then I said, why don’t you join the others dear
He looked ahead without a word, and then I knew he could not hear
O God forgive me when I whine
I have two ears, the world is mine.
With legs to take me where I’ll go
With eyes to see the sunset’s glow
With ears to hear what I would know
O God forgive me when I whine
I’m blessed, indeed, the world is mine.

Section IV: Non-Textual Passage 15 marks

Q.4 (A) Read the following passage and do the activities: [10 Marks]

(A1) Fill in the blanks: (2)

- i. _____ percent of our daily communication is non-verbal.
- ii. Eye contact is another type of _____ communication.
- iii. Frequent blinking is a sign of the person feeling _____
- iv. One can readily detect _____

According to some experts, a staggering 93 percent of our daily communication is non-verbal. Facial expressions are easy to decipher. One can readily detect happiness, sadness, anger. Physicians can tell a patient is doing well (or not) by looking at his/her face.

Eye contact is another type of non-verbal communication, which can tell a lot about the other person. The eyes convey a range of emotions-happiness, sadness, boredom, surprise, confidence even emotional interest. Staring at someone's forehead may intimidate the recipient, staring at the mouth is sometimes interpreted as a sign of emotional interest. In fact staring into someone's eyes is a sign of lying, and so is looking away. In certain cultures, lack of eye contact is taken as a sign of respect.

If body language is to be defined, it is a combination of facial expression, gestures, eye contact, body movements and posture and voice.

Frequent blinking is a sign of the person feeling distressed or uncomfortable. If the pupils are dilated, it often indicates interest, even emotional interest. The lips also reflect our body language, and lip biting indicates worry and/or anxiety; tightening of the lips may be an indication of disapproval. Slightly turned up lips indicate happiness and slightly turned down lips indicate sadness.

19th March 2022

Dear Dada,

Hope this letter finds you in the best of your health and spirits. Yesterday there was a horrible accident on the Express Highway. I heard the news on Television I was worried and remember you. As you always travelled on this route. Everyone at home is concerned about while you drive. You drive your motorcycle and four-wheeler in great speed. I know you like to drive very fast and you have a good control on the vehicles but remember, 'speed thrills but it kills too.

Last month we celebrated 'Road safety week' in our college with the help of Traffic Police, Amravati, they published some posters regarding safe driving. I know that you don't like advice but it is not a advice, it is a request by your younger brother. Dada, you are always in a hurry and so to reach on time safely. While driving a car use seat belt and while riding a bike use helmet without fail. The Traffic Police,' always urges us not to drink and drive. They insist us not to overtake and not to talk on mobile while driving vehicles. Be careful these rules are for our safety, don't ignore them.

Dada, you are very responsible person and I'm sure you will always follow the traffic rules because safety is our priority If we want to enjoy the travelling, the safe driving is the only and the best option. This campaign takes a great role in our modern life. It helps to build the accident less life and save lives of many Because of this poster people became more aware and following the traffic rules. I'm sure you too follow the rules and keep you safe. If you do this no one from our family get worried about driving and will enjoy your driving.

Bye then. Take care. Love you too much.

Yours lovingly,

Sanjay.

Sub: Issuing informative and appealing poster.

Respected Madam,

I am Sanjana Bhosale, from Sai Nagar. I would like to thank you for issuing very informative and appealing poster during Road Safety Week'. It is very necessary to aware the bike riders and Four-wheel Drivers to follow the traffic rules. Amravati Police always gives first preference to safety. This poster is very useful to the residents of Amravati as there were many motorcycle riders who don't wear helmet while riding the bike.

You insist them to follow traffic rules such as use seat belt, don't talk on the mobile, while driving don't drink and drive. Nowadays the traffic at Amravati' is increasing and many vehicles on the road. Everyone is in a hurry and it results in overtaking and accidents. Because of your team, people are alert and I'm sure they will keep themselves safe while driving. People realised Speed thrills but it kills too.' It is good to publish posters like this. Thanks once again.

Yours faithfully,

Sanjana Bhosale.

It is correctly said that. when you plant a tree, you plant a life.' Trees are one of the greatest blessings for humans from Mother Earth. They are the friends who always give us everything without expecting a single thing in return. We usually share everything with our friends' seeds, herbs and more. In a similarly tree do the same. They give us their fruits, flowers very hot and animals. Trees benefit us day they protect us under their shade. Trees are also a home for several birds in several ways and enhance our lives by are the essence of life. They give us oxygen to breathe, absorb carbon dioxide and timber to make homes. They cause rain preserve water bodies and prevent We cannot survive in soil erosion and floods. They maintain the balance of the Nature.

this world without our friends and similarly it is impossible without trees. Tree to survive on this land give us everything and in return we do nothing for them. The least we can do for trees is to them protect from being cut. Today we should take a oath, that we should take measures to protect our best before it gets too late. So, friends, Trees, dear friends, plant more trees, save more lives.

Thank you very much for the opportunity to communicate with you all and for greenery Day!

Q.6 (A)

A1: Non-verbal to verbal

Important Career Factors.

Choosing a career is a big decision and while choosing a career we have to give importance to some valuable points. Earlier it was the parents, teachers and other siblings who largely influenced our career choices but remember we should not just enter one area because our friends or siblings have picked it up. We should listen to our heart. understand what we are really interested in. See if we are good abilities to fulfil and then only look forward. Also considered the demand of your professionals, In the market, so your future will be secured. Without demand of particular education skill, you will not successes in your career. Though you have good skills in particular profession but now it is outdated then you will not get success. For example, if you have good skills in shorthand but now this course is not in demand as it replaced with computer technology, you will not get opportunity to show your skill. When you choose particular profession always see your personality abilities. Choosing a career can be daunting task.

Sometime our family professions are in our blood so it is a good choice vise versa it may be a bad choice too. Whatever the career you select it should gain profit and financial stability in future. You should assess your skill and interest. Study the market and consult an experienced person before making a final decision and be secured.

B2. Story-Writing.

Honesty is the best Policy'

Once upon a time there lived a wood-cutter whose name was Mohan Chand, in a small village. He brought some wood from the forest and sold them in the market and earned bread butter for his family. One day as usual he went into the forest and started cutting dry woods from the tallest tree. Accidentally he dropped his axe into a river, flowing along with the forest. Mohan Chand wept cried, as this axe was only means of livelihood He was weeping and cursing his luck.

Taking pity on him the River God dived into the water and returned with Golden axe. "Was this what you had lost the God asked but Mohan hand said it was not. The God again dived into the river and returned with 'Silver axe Mohan hand modestly replied", It was not mine." Further he said that his axe was ordinary iron made. The God was pleased as to hear his answer. The God dived into the water and brought the wood cutter's original Iron axe. Mohan Chand was on cloud nine as he got his axe back. He thanked the God for his deed.

Impressed by honesty the God allowed him to keep all three but Mohan Chand said," I 'm happy with my own." The God rewarded him all three axes. Mohandchand returned home happily. He sold the silver axe and by that money he started small business and lived happily with his family.

Moral: Honesty is the best policy.
