ACTIVITY SHEET - March - 2019

1. What makes you angry? What do you do then?

Ans:

I get angry when I see people disrespecting the environment, like littering. To manage my anger, I take deep breaths to calm myself down and, if appropriate, I politely ask them to use a trash bin.

1. Do you like games? Why?

Ans:

Yes, I enjoy playing games. They are not only entertaining but also help me to relax and unwind after my studies. Games also teach me strategy and teamwork.

1. What do you want to become in your life? Why?

Ans:

I aspire to become a doctor. This profession appeals to me because it combines my interest in science with my desire to help others, and it offers a chance to make a meaningful impact on people's health and lives.

ACTIVITY SHEET - July - 2019

1. 'Courage is a wonderful thing.' Do you agree with this statement? Why?

Ans:

I completely agree that courage is wonderful. It's the quality that enables us to face difficulties bravely, stand up for what's right, and take risks in pursuit of our goals, which is essential for personal growth and success.

1. According to you, how can we help beggars?

Ans:

We can assist beggars by providing immediate aid like food and clothing. Additionally, supporting charities and programs that offer education and job training can help them find long-term solutions to break the cycle of poverty.

1. How do you keep yourself away from any diseases?

Ans:

I maintain good hygiene by washing my hands regularly and keeping my surroundings clean. Eating a balanced diet, getting regular exercise, and ensuring proper rest are also key to boosting my immune system.
