

Wind _

Subramania Bharati

I.

Q1. What are the things the wind does in the first stanza?

Ans: The wind breaks the doors of the window, scatters the papers and throws down the books on the self. It also tears the pages of the pages of the books and brings rain.

Q2. Have you seen anybody winnow grain at home or in a paddy field? What is the word in your language for winnowing? What do people use for winnowing?

Ans: Students wish

Q3. What does the poet say wind god winnows?

Ans: The poet says that the wind makes fun of the weak. It crumbles the doors, houses, rafters, wood, bodies, lives and also heart. In a way the wind god separates the weak from the strong, like the chaff from the grain during winnowing.

Q4. What should we do to make friends with the wind?

Ans: In order to make friends with the wind, the poet asks us to build strong homes, join the doors firmly and practice to make our bodies and hearts stronger.

Q5. What do the last four lines of the poem mean to you?

Ans: In the last four lines, the poet inspires us to face the wind, which symbolizes the hardships of our lives courageously. He tells us that the wind can only extinguish the weak hearted but the stronger those who have unflinching will. In such a case, befriending the wind or the hardships of life make it easier for us to face them.

Q6. How does the poet speak to the wind-in anger or with humour? You must also have seen or heard of the wind 'crumbling lives'. What is your response to this? Is it same as the poets?

Ans: The poet speaks to the wind with humour. I opine that the poet's behaviour is pertinent and I have also seen the wind devastating the property mercilessly. The poet invites the wind to attack him and intends to prepare himself for the attack.

Additional Questions

Short answer type questions

Q1. Who are disturbed by the wind?

Ans: The wind disturbs only those people who are not determined. The self confident people overcome the obstacles put before them by the wind. The wind does not have the knack to disturb the peace of mind of such people. The wind blows out weak fires and makes strong fires roar and flourish.

Q2. What does the wind do with books?

Ans: The wind tears the pages off and throws them down from the book shelf. The potent (powerful) wind scatters the books and sheets of paper on the floor. It disturbs everything.

Q3. Why does the author ask the wind to come swiftly?

Ans: The author asks the wind to come swiftly so that the earthly peace and order can be retained. The wind damages the shutters of the windows, scatters the papers and tears the pages of books. It disturbs everything and everyone. So, the poet pleads for the welfare of the society.

Q4. How does the wind become the cause of rain?

Ans: The wind sometimes becomes violent and appears to be storm. It brings clouds with it from distant lands. There is no need to say that clouds bring rain. It is a universal truth and scientific fact that clouds bring rain from the blue sky.

Q5. Why should the early people build strong houses?

Ans: They should build strong houses so that they may not be damaged by wind. They should be strong enough to endure violent winds and become a challenge to the potent wind.

Q6. Does the wind god do what we tell him?

Ans: The wind god is all powerful. He is not influenced by any external factors. He doesn't do what we tell him to do. Neither our requests nor our commands will influence him. He is mighty and sweeps away all weaklings with him. He loves strength and befriends with strong and steadfast hearts.

Q7. What does the wind symbolize?

Ans: The wind symbolizes the raw and brutal power of nature. The wind god is a symbol of might and strength. He hates weaklings. He rather pokes fun at them. Be they are frail houses, crumbling doors or crumbling hearts and bodies, he spares none. He befriends only the strong.

Q8. What does the poet ask us to do?

Ans: The poet wants us to realise the true nature and power of the wind. He advises us to build strong homes. The doors must be closed firmly. Weak hearts will never succeed. Let us make our heart strong and steadfast. The wind god leaves strength and steadfastness.

Q9. Why and how does the wind blow out weak fires? Who roar and flourish?

Ans: The god of wind is against any and every shaky and weak thing. Our heart should be fired with determination and strength. Weak fires and weaklings are blown out. Only the strong roar and flourish. His friendship is good rewarding. Let us praise the wind, the symbol of power and strength.

Long answer type questionsQ11 Why does the poet suggest the people that they have to be strong? Write your answer in the context of the poem, 'wind'.

Ans: According to the poet, the wind is very powerful. It has power to break the shutters of the windows, scatter the papers and throw the books down the shelf. When it blows violently, it brings the clouds. It mocks at the weak and destroys their homes. The weak persons are really helpless before the wind.

But the poet is quite hopeful. He thinks that when the people build strong houses, they can challenge the wind. Actually the poet suggests the people that they should be strong at heart because the weak persons can not face the challenges of life. Only the people with strong hearts have the courage to face the challenges of life.

Q2. How can you say that the poet of the poem 'wind' is a great lover of mankind?

Ans: The poet wants to make people strong at heart. His desire is that they should be bold enough to face the challenges of life. When we have strong houses, we can protect ourselves from the angry wind. In the same manner when we are strong at heart we can face the challenges of life. Only the weak persons are defeated by the problems of life. Similarly the poet wants that people should face the challenges of life and make their life happy. His thought shows that he is really a great humanist. His heart is filled with compassion for mankind.

Q3. The wind is a symbol of power and strength. How can we befriend it and survive in our struggle for existence?

Ans: The wind symbolizes the uncontrollable and raw power of nature. The wind god symbolises strength and steadiness. Weaklings who are weak in the mind and body are swept away by the mighty power of the wind. Only those who are blessed with steadfast mind and hearts survive in the bitter struggle of life. The poet gives a broader message. Whatever we do or think must stand on the foundations of strength and power. Only strong minds and bodies can face the anger of the wind and challenges of life. We can befriend the god of wind by building strong homes and doors. We can also win his favour by firming the body and making the heart steadfast.

Value based questions

Q1. What moral lesson do you get from the poem 'Wind'.

Ans: The poem 'Wind' is full of moral lessons. The poet has poured out his heart in the present poem. He says that the people must be strong at heart because only the weak at heart are troubled by difficulties. Here wind symbolises difficulties which has power to devastate life on the earth. But if the people are strong at heart, they face the challenges thrown out by difficulties. They struggle and at last, come out with flying colours.